

THE MIGHTY LEVER

THE SPARTANBURG HERALD'S
EDITORIAL REPLY TOHis Long Winded Letter Published in The Times and Democrat Some Time Ago.

The article reproduced below was published in the editorial columns of the Spartanburg Herald some time ago under the caption of "The Mighty Lever." Having published Mr. Lever's long winded article, in justice to the Herald we publish its editorial reply to the same. The Herald says:

"After reading Congressman Lever's reply to Hon. Thomas H. Daniel, The Herald's Washington correspondent, we are firmly convinced, to quote Hon. P. H. Fike, the sporting editor of this journal, that Mr. Lever is a 'big man.'

"The volume of documentary evidence he produces to show the great distance between the truth and what Mr. Daniel had written this paper, about the removal of that basic slag and potash salts from the dutiable list not only confers upon our Washington correspondent membership in the Lever Ananias Club, by unanimous consent of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives, but, reveals the fact that 'Uncle Joe' Cannon is a second rater when it comes to taking the kinks out of that distinguished collection of celebrities, who by common report are believed to be in a measure influenced by the wishes of the speaker as handed down by one Sereeno Payne.

"The letters to Mr. Lever, written by the distinguished members of the ways and means committee, reveal an influence over that body wielded by the representative from South Carolina, which is awe-inspiring to contemplate. Few of his constituents will be able to appreciate the vast power Mr. Lever has developed. It is shown that he had but to speak, in a whisper as it were, to the controlling members of the ways and means committee, to have them about face and reverse themselves on this proposition.

"It must not be believed that the ease with which Mr. Lever accomplished this feat is due to the fact that the ways and means committee put a duty on basic slag and potash salts through an oversight, as was alleged by The Herald's Washington correspondent. Not at all. That is not it. It was doubtless due to force of the man and a thorough appreciation on the part of the ways and means committee that they could not afford to antagonize Mr. Lever.

"Neither is it to be believed that those standpat Republican on that committee were acquiescing through and feeling that they owed Mr. Lever anything for voting with them for a duty on lumber. None of these things entered into the matter. Mr. Lever just reached up and took potash salts basic slag, etc., out of the dutiable column and placed it on the free list. That's all."

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Kidney Remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint.
